

Logo Contest Winner Chosen

OXFORD — First Selectman George Temple announced on June 13 that Jared Poulsen is the winner of the Oxford Main Street Logo Contest.

The winner is Jared Poulsen, an Oxford High School student. Entries from the Oxford High School graphic arts class were presented to the Oxford Main Street Project committee. Each member of the committee voted on his or her favorite logo with Jared's logo being the top contender.

The award for the chosen logo was $500. Jared, his family and his graphic arts teacher, Beth Campbell, attended the award ceremony where the Chair of the Oxford Main Street Project, Kathleen O'Neil, presented him with the check.

Jared also received a Certification that acknowledged his accomplishment. Jared designed a logo that used the Oxford Main Street Project's tagline "A Path Through Nature to Progress."

The mission of the Oxford Main Street is to create and build a pedestrian/bicycle friendly pathway along Oxford's riverside giving residents access to municipal buildings, churches, local businesses and nature.

"The committee is looking forward to working with the community in the near future to help make this vision a reality," said Ms. O'Neil.

Oxford High School student Jared Poulsen (right) won the logo contest hosted by the Oxford Main Street Project Committee. Chair of the committee, Kathleen O'Neil (left), presented Jared with the $500 award at town hall.